Cancun, Mexico

If you want to venture out of the country and give the family a new experience but don't have the budget or time to fly half way around the world just head south of the border to Mexico! Right now there's a family summer special that's too good to pass up at the Cancun Palace Resort. This property is all-inclusive so you pay up front and then don't have to worry about all those little things adding up during your trip and that's ideal for families. This is one of the best family vacation deals I've seen for Mexico because at the Cancun Palace Resort kids not only stay for FREE they eat for free! Love that! Rates start at just $159 a night!
